

The John Browning Collection

All images in this collection are copyright © by the original photographer(s), their estate(s) or the commercial owners of individual images. While this collection contains some images that undoubtedly came from commercial sources, they were part of one individual's collection and it is not always clear who took particular images.

No copyright violation is intended by posting these images in this unrestored, low resolution jpeg, format on the web, rather it is hoped that this posting will serve as a catalogue to a collection which might otherwise have been lost following the death of the original owner(s).

Captions were taken from the original slides, however some corrections were made by John Browning where errors were obvious/known.

Please contact John Browning direct for information on obtaining copies of any of these images.

The numerical listing is followed by an alphabetic listing, then contact sheets for all images.
