

AUSTRALIAN HEALTH INFORMATICS ASSOCIATION (QLD)

COMPUTER BASICS FOR HEALTH PRACTITIONERS 1993

A.C. LYNN ZELMER EDITOR

Primers

- * Buying your first computer - for the student or home purchaser.
- * Portable computing - laptops, luggables, notebooks & palmtops.
- * Choosing the solution - Guide to evaluating and selecting computer equipment and software.
- * GP Computing - selecting a computer system.
- * Exploring New Software - hints on how to install and use new software.
- * Basic Applications - word Processing, database managers & spreadsheets.
- * Developing Computer Assisted Learning Materials.
- * Desktop Publishing - what can be done with a good word processing package.
- * Multimedia Basics - what is involved in computer controlled multimedia applications.
- * Barcode technology - bar codes and their uses.
- * Computer Maintenance - routine "cleaning" of your computer system.

Australian Case Studies

- * Patient Care System: Greenslopes Repatriation Hospital, Brisbane: Successful computerisation is never easy.
- * Computers in a Regional Hospital: A study of attitudes of hospital staff towards the introduction of computers.
- * Barcodes in the Central Supply Department in a Large Provincial Hospital: Guidelines for successful implementation of a computer system.

83 pages of useful information

ISBN 0 646 14657 2

Order Form: Computer Basics for Health Practitioners 1993

$20 postpaid (non-AHIA(Qld) Inc members)

Name:

$15 post paid (AHIA(Qld) Inc members)

Mailing Address:

I enclose $_____, for ___ copies.

City:

Please mail your order and cheque to:

The Treasurer, AHIA(Qld) Inc

PO Box 1144, Milton, 4064.

State/Postcode:

Cheques are payable to the Australian Health Informatics Association (Qld) Inc.